THE OLD SPAGHETTI FACTORY OPENS NEW TUKWILA LOCATION

Opening June 29, New Restaurant Offers Affordable Dining and Jobs for Local Residents

TUKWILA, Wash. – During its 40th anniversary, The Old Spaghetti Factory is continuing its tradition of offering families a complete, nutritious meal for a low price by opening its newest location in the Southcenter Square at 17100 Southcenter Parkway.

The new restaurant is bringing both affordable dining and new business to the local economy. The Old Spaghetti Factory is having a positive impact on the economy with the recent hiring of 170 local staff members.

“The Old Spaghetti Factory has been a long-time dining tradition for families, since my family began serving complete pasta meals 40 years ago,” said Chris Dussin, president of the Dussin Group. “We know this is a challenging time for many families, so we felt this was the right time to offer Tukwila residents a new option for local, affordable dining.”

The Tukwila restaurant will feature The Old Spaghetti Factory’s complete meals that include a salad, freshly baked bread, entree, beverage and dessert, as well as signature pasta specialties like the Spaghetti with Mizithra Cheese.

With five other locations in Washington, The Old Spaghetti Factory now has 39 locations throughout the country.

The Old Spaghetti Factory is best known for its memorable family dining experience that offers complete meals at a great value. The restaurant also offers an acclaimed kids’ menu.
